Russell Bedford International North America Conference 2025

The Russell Bedford International North America Conference 2025 in New Orleans, USA, brought together members from across the region for insightful discussions, valuable networking and strategic planning for the future.

The event began with a wonderful welcome dinner at the Chemin a la Mer restaurant in the Warehouse District where delegates had the opportunity to connect with peers while enjoying the panoramic views of the Mississippi River.

The conference agenda started with introductions and updates from member firms, followed by key sessions on practice management. This included roundtable discussions facilitated by Jack Cartmel from Numis and Michael Parrish from PW Associates which explored strategies for streamlining operations and enhancing profitability.

Scott Peterson from Avalara provided crucial updates on SALT/GST, keeping firms informed on the latest regulatory changes. This was followed by a session on CAAS led by Amy Langfelder from Cray Kaiser which highlighted innovative approaches to reengineering accounting service departments for growth.

Bruce Benator from WBL CPAs + Advisors then led an in-depth discussion on workforce strategies, addressing key challenges in recruitment, retention, and the evolving landscape of remote vs. in-office work.

The final discussions of the day focused on growth, succession planning, and futureproofing, with David Barbeito from De La Hoz, Perez & Barbeito leading the discussion on how to prepare for long-term success.

Rounding out the agenda, Russell Bedford International CEO, Stephen Hamlet, and Associate Director of Network Engagement, Kathryn Davis, led an engaging roundtable on strengthening collaboration and enhancing the Russell Bedford brand across North America.

To close the conference, delegates enjoyed an authentic New Orleans experience at the Olde Nola Cookery, right in the heart of the French Quarter, overlooking Bourbon Street.

“It’s been an exciting start to 2025 with the North America Conference – providing a fantastic opportunity for our US firms to reconnect, focus on regional growth, and plan long-term strategies for collaboration on an international scale.” Stephen Hamlet, CEO, Russell Bedford International.

IPPC Group joins as the second member firm in India

Russell Bedford International has announced the appointment of Delhi-based IPPC Group as the global network's second member in India.

Founded in 1978 by senior partner Inderpal Singh Pasricha, IPPC Group has grown significantly over the years.

Serving more than 300 private and public clients, including multinational and domestic enterprises, the group comprises two main entities: I.P. Pasricha & Co Chartered Accountants and PMC Consultants Pvt Ltd, a business consulting firm.

With a team of 90 professionals across eight offices in northern and central India, the group offers a wide range of services. These include internal and external audit, tax, advisory and business process outsourcing (BPO).

The group's expertise spans many sectors, including media, IT, telecoms, manufacturing and pharmaceuticals.

Speaking about the appointment, Russell Bedford CEO, Stephen Hamlet, said: "It is a pleasure to welcome IPPC Group as our second member in India. For the most part, the new group and our existing member, Sharp & Tannan, provide complementary service-lines. So, as well as considerably enhancing our presence in India, the move greatly broadens our network's scope of services for domestic and international clients."

IPPC Group managing partner, Maneet Pal, added: "We aim to provide a comprehensive suite of services beyond traditional audit and taxation. This diversification allows us to cater to a wide range of client needs. Our goal is to serve multinational clients and access emerging markets while leveraging local expertise. Joining Russell Bedford allows us to expand our reach and network, collaborate with other like-minded firms, and access resources and expertise that can help us provide better services to our clients."

Congratulations to our taking you further 2024 quiz winner, John Donnelly!

As part of taking you further day 2024, we hosted an exciting quiz to test our members' knowledge of Russell Bedford International – from our founding and core values to our achievements at the IAB awards.

During our taking you further day global virtual call, we revealed the quiz champion: John Donnelly from Russell Bedford (Dubai) Limited, who answered all questions correctly in record time. We extend a huge congratulations to John who won a donation to the charity of his choice.

John chose to support Stay Dogs Center UAE which is an animal rescue shelter for stray dogs. This centre houses more than 1,400 dogs and purely relies on donations and support from the public to cover their ongoing costs.

This cause is close to our hearts, as the team previously visited the center as part of taking you further day 2019, where they spent time walking and interacting with the dogs.
